ROTARIANS HEAR OF ROAD PROJECTS, POPULATION GAINS

BOWLING CONTEST TO BE ARRANGED BETWEEN NILES AND HAYWARD CLUBS

A decidedly encouraging comment on the future growth of Niles and Southern Alameda County as seen in population shifts, highway programs and building projects was given at last Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Niles Rotary Club at the Hotel Belvoir by Wayne D. Close. Mr Close is in charge of traffic and highway matters for the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

He gave a resume of the highway building program now in force in California, mentioning that the three-cent gasoline tax is the only tax on record used solely for the purpose for which it is collected, that of building and maintaining California's highways. The two out-standing projects of interest to this community are the Eastshore Highway and the Warm Springs-Niles and Niles-Sunol highway improvement programs set for the 1940-41 biennium budget.

—Routing Is Mystery

The Eastshore Highway has been routed from Richmond to 30th Avenue, north of San Leandro but from there out it is "anybody's guess," the speaker said. There have been many conjectures regarding the routing of this highway through the township, some reports having been that it would skirt the marshes west of Alvarado go through Newark to Alviso and thence to San Jose.

The speaker pointed out that a town no longer wants a fast highway down its main street but does wish to be within convenient distance to enable tourists to reach the business section easily. He complimented the wide streets of Niles and said that the growth of a city depended largely upon parking facilities and transportation ease. The day is not far distant, he said, when there will be no street parking in Oakland. Large chain stores are already beginning to demand sufficient space for off-street parking when constructing a new building.

Alameda County has more registered vehicles than any county in California except Los Angeles county, Close said. The number of vehicles in the state has doubled in the last 10 years but the miles travelled have increased ten-fold.

—Population Increase

Increase of Alameda County population as shown in the recent census report has gone beyond even the predictions of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Close said. The increase in Southern Alameda County shows a definite population trend toward this section.

The speaker told of the methods of the safety council of Oakland and of the new street signal system soon to be in force in Oakland. More information regarding the Eastshore highway is expected to be made public following a meeting of the State Highway Commission on September 27, Close said.

President George Smith appointed Dr. T. C. Wilson and Chick Burdick to arrange a bowling contest between the Niles and the Hayward Rotary Clubs.

EDDIE CALDEIRA HURT IN CRASH

DECOTO — Eddie Caldeira, 18, of Decoto, was taken to the Highland Hospital Tuesday morning after his car crashed into a pole near here as he was returning home from work at the Hunt Packing company at Hayward. Caldeira is said to have gone to sleep. He suffered numerous abrasions and contusions and a cerebral concussion. After treatment by Dr. E. C. Grau of Niles he was taken to the hospital in the Dallas Paul ambulance.

Field Executive W. T. The patient, who was operated on Monday night is reported progressing favorably.

MEN TO COOK, LADIES TO SIT, AT CHURCH DINNER

For once the ladies will sit and be waited upon at a church benefit dinner and the men will do the work. Or so it is announced by those in charge of the Jiggs dinner to be served at the Niles Congregational Church next Tuesday night from 6 to 8 o'clock under the direction of Reverend R. C. Day, pastor; his son, Richard and W. T. Lindsay, Boy Scout executive.

Planning, cooking, serving and dish-washing are to be done by the men — or so they say. The program has been planned for two purposes, according to committee members: to raise money for the church and to prove that the men of Niles are the equals of their ladies who win prizes on radio cook book quizzes in cake contests, etc. Cornbeef and cabbage will top the menu for next Tuesday night.

The child was the son of Mr and Mrs Manuel Basurto of Third street. He became ill Friday morning and the parents were told to take him to the hospital. Enroute their car stalled at San Landro because of a flat tire and the child passed away as his father sought to repair the tire. A police ambulance took the child to Fairmont where he was pronounced dead.

Pleasanton Men Tell Niles Group Of Trip East

Andy Jorgensen, a member of the Pleasanton Junior Chamber of Commerce presented a humorous recital of an eight-man bus trip around the United States made in June when the Pleasanton organization sent delegates to the national convention of Junior chambers held in Washington, D.C.

The delegates converted an old-style school bus to include sleeping quarters, an ice box and other comforts, then set off on an 8,000 mile jaunt across the United States southern route through New Orleans, up the Atlantic seaboard to the national capital. There, dressed in red shirts, jeans, cowboy boots and silk hats with canes, they "stole the show."

Members of the Niles Junior Chamber, dining Monday night at the City of Florence restaurant, continued the trip with the speaker, proceeding to the New York World's Fair, thence into Canada, returning to Pleasanton via the northern route.

John Garibaldi, president of the Pleasanton body, recommended this method of travel to any group of persons planning a sight-seeing tour at a minimum of expense.

In a Canadain garage, Jorgensen said, they encountered a young man of military age. Asked why he had not enlisted he said he was rejected because he had three teeth missing. He said he had told the recruiting officer "Hell, I dont want to eat the Germans, I just want to shoot them!"

The visitors concluded their interesting travelog by showing three reels of colored motion pictures taken during their trip. Joe Antonini and George Hansen were the other members present from Pleasanton.

The Niles chamber's plan to sponsor a celebration when the new road is opened at this end of Niles Canyon was tabled until improvements at the upper end are completed, at which time the Pleasanton group will be contacted with a view to putting on a joint celebration.

President Henry Vervais presided.

SANITATION AT ALVARADO REQUIRES TAX RATE OF $1.25

ALVARADO — Charles Baird, president of the chamber of commerce called a sewer district meeting at the Alvarado Grammar School Thursday evening with many local business men and property owners attending. The meeting was called to discuss plans about forming a sanitary dis trict in Alvarado. Engineer Macabee of Haywards who was accompanied by his assistant, Mr Stage, and Professor Thomas of Stanford University thanked the people for their fine support and estimated the cost for installing a sewer system would be less than $39,000.

Engineer Macabee stated the tax rate would be $1.00 for $100 assessed value for the first year, and the total for retiring the bonds plus maintenance for the first year would be $1.25. The new sewer system will take care of a population of 1500 people.

Professor Thomas, an authority on sanitary conditions in California said the sewer system would be the latest in efficiency, and in order to have better health conditions in Alvarado a sewer system was necessary. Frank Machado, John Ralph, Fred Wiegman, George Oakes, and A. A. Lee were appointed as a committee at the last meeting to make an investigation into the project. It was proved they were successful by their getting fifty merchants to guarantee to pay $5.00 each for the cost of investigation in case the project did not go through.

MANY HUNTERS BAG THEIR BUCKS IN NEARBY HILLS

SEVEN DEER HANG IN BERCHEM'S MARKET ON OPENING NIGHT

Township deer hunters who went hunting in Mendocino county or other distant points could not have fared better than their brother nimrods who sought their quarry at Sunol or other nearby hunting grounds.

By evening of last Thursday, opening day, no less than seven carcasses were hung to cool in the big ice vault at Berchem's Quality Meat company in Niles.

A partial list of successful Township deer hunters follows.

Members of the "Outlaws," who brought in six deer from the Abrott ranch are Louis Schroder, Arthur Abrott, Lorin Abrott, Harry Abrott, Wiley T. Vaughn, one each. Other members of the club are Ernest Frick and Ted Logan who so far have scored a goose egg.

FOUR MEN — FOUR BUCKS

ALVARADO — Four members of the Weil Gun Club which is situated near Mt. Hamilton returned home this weekend with a deer apiece: Joseph Buchen shot a nice forked horn, Spud Degermark, a three pointer, Dr. John F. Bettencourt, a forked horn and Iver Paulsen a three pointer. Among the other members who were lucky enough to get a few nice shots at bucks but were unable to bag one were Joe Dutra, Anthony J. Vargus, Manuel Azevedo, Nick Lewis, and Alvin Searles. Mrs Genevieve Dutra, also a member of the club spent Friday deer hunting in the same territory. She and her husband Joseph Edwin Dutra will be the guests of S. D. Parks during deer season at his ranch near Calaveras Dam.

HITLER'S PEACE "APPEAL"

Six weeks ago, with the demolition of France the Axis powers were rattling sabers and raring to tear away at Britain. Three weeks passed and nothing much happened, except daily air forays, beginning July 18.

Three weeks ago the Nazi high command split: half of them feared the cost of a direct invasion of England, preferred blockade and slow attrition instead. The other half, notably the vile Gestapos, wanted to go ahead — at any price.

Two weeks ago Hitler waved peace appeals which Halifax bluntly rejected.

Since which time both nations have been swapping mair blows, with England losing fewer planes and pilots than the Germans, while damaging many important objectives.

Late last week Adolph changed his tune from a peace demand to a peace "appeal". Guess the huns are getting tired of the slaughter and are running short of munitions and supplies.

As pointed out in these columns a month ago — the English channel still serves to prevent a blitzkrieg . . . and I firmly believe we will all live to see the blessed day when mighty England can dictate the peace terms to the dictators.

This will include the restoration of the ravished lands, with the brutal dictators being brought to time.

It just may be our own vast rearmament program may never have to be fulfilled with its great cost, and burden on the people.

* * *

Mussolini's proud boast of what he was going to do are being held nicely in check by England — and a fearful winter of starvation, want and woe begins two months from now for the poor, down-trodden common people who have the misfortune to live in Europe.

There will be civil riots and uprisings, and the whole Hitler machine may crack up, or fall of it's own weight.

Genius is never transmittable. — With the elimination of mad Hitler his empire will dissolve like ill-begotten kingdoms always perish.

With the killing of Huey Long, what has become of his nefarious machine?

Right will triumph — no matter how long it takes, nor how many innocent souls perish that the guilty may live.

— W.W.

PLOWSHARES INTO SWORDS

More than 10,000 key industrial plants of America are preparing for the dramatic turnover from production of the things of peace to production of the materials of war. Of these plants, chosen by the War Department after years of study in preparation for the theoretical M-day, hundreds already have received the "go" signal with national defense contracts. And the conversions range from the amazing to the amusing.

Most literally interpreting the "ploughshares into swords" role are the manufacturers of agricultural implements, who will produce gun carriages and combat wagons! Other makers will turn from mining machinery to combat tanks; from church pipe organs to wooden frameworks for army saddles; from flat-bed printing presses to recoil mechanisms for howitzers; from cash registers and adding machines to bomb fuses; from parking meters to bomb mechanisms; from automatic lead pencils to ammunition parts; from toy soldiers and miniature trains to mesh gears and canteens; from vacuum cleaners to gas masks; and—last but far from least—from the manufacture of women's underwear to manufacture of mosquito netting for troops in the field.

Since that is a mere skeleton list, it seems safe for America to assume that whatever the rearmament technicians may require—whether something that now exists or something yet to be invented—some resourceful manufacturer stands ready to turn it out!

THE UNITED STATES GOES ON AS USUAL

By J. E. Jones

WASHINGTON, D. C. — For many weeks the people of the United States have lived in a state of excitement and fear over the European war, principally because the German raiders have been horrible, and successful in their methods. Our own Government programs have been whipped into shape and everything is on the move. The United States will be on a war basis to defend our country and the Western Hemisphere by the time the Germans conquer Europe, and are ready to come-up-and-see-us, and try to fasten us to their "axles."

The last loud speech by Hitler is a threat to destroy England, but between the lines there are notes of a desire for peace, for the likely reason that the tyrant has bitten off more than he can chew, and is troubled about enforcing his authority over the innocent victims he has battered down. In any event Great Britain is ahead of us, and we are compelled to await the outcome before anticipations that Swastikas will be presented to the nephews of Uncle Sam. We are not next on the list, even though some of the politicans in Washington are still hysterical enough to believe that we are.

The plans are made, the money is voted, the contracts are being let and U. S. national security is in the bag. The work will be finished and ready in plenty of time to greet Herr Hitler as soon as he can get ready to come over here and try his game on us.

Suppose we give this war stuff a "breathing spell" and turn our attention to the important business before the American people.

Foreign trade, commerce and travel have been badly upset, but the United States is having better times than the other fellows, and our hemisphere is sufficient unto itself and capable of taking care of all problems. The war plans and manufacturing enterprises are EXTRAS in the industrial scheme. They do not, and will not supplant regular manufacturing and activities.

But get the fact straight in your mind, that the United States is going on as usual. That's Democracy — and regardless of wars and political battles Democracy will survive.

ADVERTISING PURGES ITSELF

From: NATION'S BUSINESS

Down through the history of the United States, only a few advertising rogues have thrived, and those only for short periods.

There was a time, 100 years ago, when capable physicians were rare in this country. People dosed themselves, both with dreadful concoctions made from their gardens, and with patent medicines from the store. Then arose a swarm of nostrums for the "cure" of every disease. These nostrums slew their thousands. Many of them existed for no other purpose than, as has been said, "to make ailing women happily drunk at home."

But the advertising of such pain-killers and fool-killers was thrown out by most newspapers and magazines at least 25 years ago, says Nation's Business. As good doctors became more common, the thirst for patent medicine abated. In their wake came some cosmeticians who preyed on women's vanity, wily scoundrels who offered perpetual youth in the form of lotions and creams.

But the success of any article sold in packages depends, of course, on repeat orders. Few if any lasting fortunes have been made by lying proprietors of cosmetics. Women buy once. When they notice no results, except perhaps a rash or eruption, they do not buy again. Most of the permanently advertised beauty preparations are made of ingredients which any dermatologist will tell you are good for the skin. And reputable department stores and drug stores, in recognition of their responsibliities to their customers, will handle no beauty preparation to which women in the mass are allergic at all.

What is true of cosmetics and other packaged goods is also true of everything you see consistenly advertised. An advertisement is the worst possible place in which to try to deceive. Deception doesn't work and doesn't pay.

Advertisers Live in

GLASS HOUSES

WHAT they promise in their advertisements, and what they deliver in their merchandise, are right there for all to see.

If they deliver what they promise, they make friends and steady customers. If not they make enemies, lose patronage and finally go out of business.

Those are the cold, hard reasons why honesty is the best policy—especially in advertising.

But the real fact is that advertisers as a class are humanly jealous of their good names. The trade-marks of manufacturers and the published recommendations of merchants are only accorded to products which they can offer you with confidence and pride.

You can trust the ads to lead you to sound values.

PUBLIC UTILITIES BEAR BIG SHARE OF LOCAL TAXES

SACRAMENTO — For the purposes of local taxation, California public utility property today was given a value of $1,011,140,980 in an assessment roll adopted by the State Board of Equalization.

This total, according to Fred E. Stewart, second district board member, included tangible property valued at $962,591,800, and intangible property or solvent credits amounting to $48,549,180. The major item of tangible property represented a gain of more than $12,000,000 over comparable assessments of the previous year.

In Alameda county, the utility assessment roll for 1940 included intangible property, $291,480; tangible property, $66,310,750 as compared with the 1939 total of intangible, $237,110, and tangible property, $65,425,110.

Stewart was a sponsor of the tax reorganization program which provided that public utility property, previously taxed by the state, should be returned to local tax rolls in 1935. He pointed out that this was the sixth such assessment roll adopted by the board

"During the last six years the board has approved public utility assessment rolls providing taxable values for local governments of property amounting to approximately $1,000,000,000 annually," Stewart explained.

"This means that during this period the local governments have collected between $160,000,000 and $175,000,000 in public utility taxes which otherwise would have been assessed against land, local homes and businesses under current governmental demands."

CHECK AIR CLEANER

Especially during the summer, when road dust is prevalent almost everywhere, it is important to see to it that the air cleaner on the automobile engine is working properly, warns the National Automobile Club. By trapping abrasive dust, the air cleaner saves the motor from destructive wear. A defective or worn-out cleaner can result in heavy loss to the owner.

Washington College

By Elizabeth Haskell Sloan

The Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end of Washington College has come into the K. F. Reynold's window in Irvington in the shape of the first announcement, and the last issue of the Anderson Academy year book called "The Recruit."

According to this announcement a sixteen page affair printed by A. L. Bancroft & Co. of San Francisco, Washington College occupied a "commanding site" with a "view from the grounds" which extended many miles and included "the larger part of San Francisco Bay!" On the north and east were the mountains which enclosed the valley, and made it the most desirable location in the state.

It was in 1871 that a movement was launched to "secure a site for a school to be called 'Washington College of Science and Industry', it being the desire . . to found a school wherein should be incorporated the main features of the Polytechnic Schools of Europe and some of the Eastern States. With characteristic generosity E. L. Beard took a lively interest . . and donated the beautiful site of the college on which was erected a handsome building that cost about thirty thousand dollars." This building is described as a "Handsome edifice, three stories high, includng the Mansard roof."

—Opened July 31, 1872

This college opened its doors on July 31st, 1872, with Reverend and Mrs S. S. Harmon in charge. That it met a need was evidenced by the statement; "Though this institution came into existence less than one year since, during the last term every room was crowded to excess" and the trustees felt it necessary to erect another building.

It was at this time also that the University of California was getting out of its swaddling clothes. It had moved from Oakland to its new site in Berkeley, and had called Daniel Coit Gilman to its presidency. This little announcement states that President Gilman, and professors Carr and Kellogg had consented to give "occasional lectures to the students," and that "The curriculum of study is so arranged as to accord in its main features with that of the State University, thereby making admission to that institution more easy for those who may desire to enter any of its classes."

The list of trustess, teachers and pupils brings many prominent names to mind, but the first graduates were four girls, although there are almost as many boys as girls in the different divisions of the college. Co-education was in its experimental stage at the time, and a great many good people were violently opposed to it, therefore, it was a brave step on the part of this new venture to open its doors to both sexes. The reason assigned was that "under proper direction it enkindles the most wholesome emulation in respect to scholarship and dignity of character; and thus it is more easy to cultivate in the pupils habits of courtesy and gentility . . ."

—Athletics For Girls

There was a distinct division, however, in the activities of the young "Ladies" and the young "Gentlemen". The young ladies were to be taught calisthenics and skating, while the young gentlemen were to be trained both in the gymnasium and military drill, this latter to take the form of the Washington College Cadets under the direction of an experienced officer.

The location was two hundred yards from the Central Pacific railroad station at Washington, as Irvington was then called, and full directions were given for reaching the college from all parts of the state. It you came on the 3 o'clock train from San Francisco, you would come direct to the college, but if you should come on either the seven a.m. or the four p.m. you had to lay over in Niles an hour and a half for the next train or take the stage which would bring you direct to the college.

The 1873 period was one of those "depression" times, and it is quite remarkable that this institution could offer "Board, lights, washing and tuition" all for $300 per year. There were extras like music, painting and French, German or Italian languages, but they were modest in price.

This institution graduated many people who became leaders in various walks of life, but unhappily it had to close its doors in 1882. It was reopened, however, in 1883 as a sectarian school under the auspices of the Christian Church, with the Rev. J. Durham and Mr Pollard as directors, and operated successfully for a number of years but trouble in regard to the title caused the church to abandon the matter and again it was closed.

When the doors were opened again in 1896, the co-educational character had given way to a purely feminine institution which made a bid in competition with Mills seminary for the young ladies of the time. The title of the institution this time was "The Curtner Seminary" and was under the direction of H. D. McAneney, as Principal, with H. C. Ingram and his wife as assistants, although when first opened it was simply called "Irvington Seminary."

—Cultural Side

This new institution, according to their fifth announcement, which was for 1898-99 and proved to be their last, was devoted to the cultural side of education, and paid special attention to music. "One of the important features of the Conservatory is its Choral Society, which meets in weekly rehearsal under the direction of Professor Fleissner, and, during the second term, will present a complete cantata." "The supreme aim of the Seminary is to develop the highest and most unselfish type of womanly character."

The pictures in this announcement are very interesting, it was the wasp-waist, full long skirt, big broad-rimmed hat and shirt-waist period, in which the main exercise of the "ladies" was playing croquet.

The career of this seminary, however, was dramatically closed on the night of July 4th, 1899, when the buildings mysteriously all burned to the ground.

The final change came in 1900, and this time it swung the other way, and became the Anderson Military Academy for boys, although it did graduate one girl, Georgia Cutler.

W. W. Anderson, one of the noted educators of the state, took over the grounds at that time and with the assistance of the community, erected suitable buildings where according to another folder in the historic window — "Beautiful Irvington", "They admit none but boys of a high moral character" and thus it became "one of the foremost institutions of its kind in the state."

—Runs Fourteen Years

For fourteen beautiful years this institution flourished, then, due partly to the age of the principal, and partly to the growing competition of the public high schools, it closed its doors. This last number of "The Recruit" is a memorial to W. W. Anderson, who had so kindly and wisely guided them during their studies on the "Hill" as it was often called.

Nearly two generations passed thru its doors before its final demise, and although the Western Pacific in 1921 sheared off quite a piece of the beautiful grounds and while the main building erected as a dormitory and school room has been torn down, still there lingers the atmosphere academic, and one cannot but regret that the beautiful trees do not still shelter the young life of former days.

Mr and Mrs A. J. Cadero of Alvarado drove to San Diego Tuesday and are attending the state convention of the American Legion which starts Saturday.

ALAMEDA COUNTY DEMOCRATS UNITE

For the first time in history all the factions of the Democratic Party in Alameda County have united not only to support the candidacies of President Roosevelt and Henry Wallace but to elect a solid Democratic slate for the State Assembly in the coming August primaries. Here you see the leaders of three of the seven major factions at a unity meeting of all the groups. Gordon F. "George" Irvine (center) is general chairman of the coordinated committees, chairman of the Roosevelt Again Committee and candidate for Assembly from the 14th District. At right is Jesse Benson, chairman of the Alameda Democratic County Committee's campaign organization. At left is Ray Colliver, chairman of the Alameda County Democratic Coalition Committee.

Individual Freedom

FREEDOM BELONGS to the individual, and no system that denies this can possibly win and retain the support of enlightened thinkers. Intelligence vetoes slavery, which always results from obscuring that eternal freedom which is vital and real. Stephen and Paul did not hesitate before adverse popular opinion or misguided human authority when there was an urgent need to voice the truth. In the Christian Science textboook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy says (p. 224): "Truth brings the elements of liberty. On its banner is the Soul-inspired motto, 'Slavery is abolished.' The power of God brings deliverance to the captive. No power can withstand divine Love."

It is an old argument of error that tyranny is justified because it works to bring about good for the majority, that it will procure orderliness and peace, end warring factions, fulfill all practical needs, weld into unity elements that appear discordant and erratic. Such a belief, manifesting itself in a form of government which denies individual freedom of thought, speech, and action, may appear for a time to improve material conditions by checking license and other abuses which prey on individual rights. But the core of tyranny is its seeming power to produce a semblance of obedience through fear, instead of through intelligent self-discipline, and the basis upon which it rests cannot be made sound by over-zealous eloquence. Tyranny rejects spiritual values, without which existence is a meaningless dream. Devoid of reality, lacking the divine attributes which ensure the continuity of all right ideas, its pretense to power falls before the law of God.

God is omnipotent, omnipresent, omniscient, and omniactive, governing all His children through spiritual law. This divine law can be understood and demonstrated by all, for their mutual good. There is nothing in mortal belief that can intervene between God and His creation, including man made in His likeness, who is wholly good.

Even though this truth may be obscured for a time, it will stand in spite of all efforts of evil to erase it. Man cannot be separated from God, the cause of his being, the source of all real existence. Soon or late, every mortal will awake from the dream of separation from God, good, to hear and respond to the call of Love. Then will Principle and its reflection be understood as existing in everlasting harmony; and Love's likeness will be seen as eternally loving. Truth will "sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place" (Isaiah 28:17). . . .

Let us, therefore, seek and maintain the true sense of government that manifests the unalterable relationship existing between God and man; and let us not violate it by interposing a command to worship the idols of human will. Individuals must be free to offer their sole allegiance to God. The dawn of His day appears; the "bright and morning star" (Revelation 22:16) is seen as the coming of the Christ, Truth. The effect of this spiritual dawning on human thought, bringing hope and healing to men, is shown in the life and works of Christ Jesus. . . .

Right thinking individuals are united in the prayerful effort to see true freedom and law as divine attributes, and to claim their benefits for all. Mankind must gain a fuller understanding of the First Commandment, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (Exodus 20:3), for obedience to it brings about the destruction of all evil. Then, like John the Revelator, all the people shall hear "a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God." —The Christian Science Monitor

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE INCREASES; COSTS HOLD SAME LEVEL

SAN FRANCISCO—Significant and instructive figures on California school costs, showing that expenditures for public schools have been held practically at the level of ten years ago, in spite of rising costs in almost every branch of the state government, were released here today by Roy W. Cloud Executive Secretary of the California Teachers Association.

The figures, based on exhaustive studies over the past ten-year period by Dr Elmer H. Staffelbach, research authority, show in fact that education was in effect costing the people of the state about $14,000,000 less in 1938-39 than in 1928-29.

Most striking of the figures appear in the report covering the secondary, or high schools. Here the attendance has gained over 60 per cent in ten years, jumping from 274,863 in 1928-29 to 440,493 in 1938-39. During 1928-29 the cost was $238.01 for each pupil in average daily attendance while for the school year 1938-39 and in spite of the tremendous attendance increase, the annual cost was even reduced, amounting to $203.06 per pupil.

LIGHT HORSE TROOP TO APPEAR SOON AT TREASURE ISLAND

TREASURE ISLAND — Victor McLaglen's Light Horse, a troop of spectacular horsemen and women will perform at the Golden Gate International Exposition Horse Show on Treasure Island, August 10 to 18. This was the announcement made yesterday by E. O. Bondeson, director of shows for the Exposition.

Composed of men and women selected from all walks of business and professional life, the Light Horse Troop is considered more sensational than the famous North west Mounties who made such a hit at last year's show.

Victor McLaglan, movie star, is originator and commander of the troop while Mrs Hal Roach is Lieut. Col., in charge of the women's division.

Dedicated to the support of the Constitution of the United States and to assist in times of major disasters or emergencies, the troop has maintained a high standard of training throughout the years.

Featured by the troop are such difficult riding stunts as Tent-Pegging, Pyramid riding, Roman-riding, Human Jump, Fire Jump, Musical Ride, Tug of War on Horse Back, Relay Racing, Rescue Racing, and massed drills.

A complete working model of the 200-inch Mount Palomar telescope (world's largest) is on display at the Westingtouse exhibit at the Golden Gate International Exposition.

GOVERNMENT COSTS CITED BELOW FOR CITIES OF COUNTY

The average cost per person for municipal government in Alameda County is $23,94, according to a report just completed by the Alameda County Taxpayers' Association. This compares with a cost of only $14.02 in 1919. During the past year more than $11,000,000 were spent by the ten incorporated cities in the County.

The best record was made by the City of Albany with a per capita cost of only $15.49, closely followed by Pleasanton and San Leandro with per capita costs of $16.55 and $16.60, respectively. The highest cost per capita was recorded in Emeryville with $56.08 per person. This amount is 285 per cent more than the per capita cost of $14.55 in 1919. Piedmont, the sixth city in size, spent the fourth greatest amount and has a per capita cost of almost twice that of the city of Albany.

While the incorporated cities were increasing their cost per person by 71 per cent since 1919, the County of Alameda costs increased 178 per cent, jumping from $17.73 to $49.37. Hayward with only 6,547 people spent $170,761 and increased the per capita cost 170 per cent during the past twenty years.

NAVAL BOMBERS PERFORM PRACTICE FLIGHTS NEARBY

ALVARADO — If you've been curious about all the racket down Alvarado way on the Patterson ranch and wondering if the Nazis have invaded it's all a matter of practice by Uncle Sam's Navy air force operating out of the Alameda air base.

For the past several Sundays bombers have been noted circling low over the fields west of the Marsh Road, dropping practice bombs on targets 500 feet in diameter with a 10 by 10 center outlined in lime. The bombs pierce the earth from two to four feet, sending up clouds of dust. All roads to the section were guarded and no passersby was allowed to enter unless proof of necessity was given, bombing being stopped during the interim.

The operations have ceased for the present as 60 head of beef cattle from the Livermore hills have been brought to the 50-acre lot for fattening and no bovine can put on pounds when constantly startled or sent galloping over the fields by exploding bombs.

However, an adjoining field may be used for the practice operations in the near future.

George Smith, president of the Niles Rotary Club and Dr. T. C. Wilson returned Wednesday from a four-day conference of the 105th district of Rotary at Susanville. The conference was for presidents and secretaries.

SWIMMING POOL PROJECT AT W. U. H. S. BEING DELAYED

IRVINGTON — Further action on the part of the Irvington committee appointed to promote the installation of a swimming pool at the Washington Union High School is being delayed pending receipt of assurance from the board of trustees that they will back the committee, it was reported by Mrs George Scamman, chairman, following a meeing held last Monday night.

At a previous meeting between the committee and the board, it was understood the board asked the committee to bring in a petition signed by several hundred taxpayers requesting the installation of the pool. The board pointed out that it was representing the taxpayers and would like to know what was favorable with the majority.

One of the plans suggested for the financing of the pool was that the district could set a tax for same. It is understood that it would take only a few cents for one year to raise a sufficient amount. Those working on the project point out that the pool is a matter not only of recreation but a means of safety education as well. Saving the life of one child that might be drowned because of a lack of ability to swim would off-set the financial cost of the pool, they say.

On the committee are Mrs Scammon, Dr. E. M. Grimmer, Mrs R. A. Griffin, J. R. Silveria, Jack Prouty, John Oliveira and Mrs Wayne Day.

Eugene and Charles Gilford of Paradise Park have been visiting at the home of Mr and Mrs George Emerson.
